

Social Interaction Through Role Play

Module 2 Disabilities in Society

People around us interact with each other every day to perform different tasks. For this activity you will work in groups to practise role plays of different social scenarios that happen everyday.

Your teacher will put you into small groups and give you some time to practise your roleplay. The examples are listed below. You are also required to think of some potential difficulties someone with vision impairment may have during these activities. Think of social expressions like tone of voice, facial expression and body gestures as part of the role play.

You are to write them down underneath each scenario as you take turns watching each others role play. Can you think of some recommended improvements that may help people with vision impairment?

Scenario 1 – Buying groceries and talking with the checkout operator

Scenario 2 – Ordering food at a restaurant from a menu, talking with a waiter and eating a meal

Scenario 3 – Meeting someone new at a party, sports club, BBQ
